TERMS - EAGLE DEFENSE

Beor 2012

MAC DOG

Eagle Defense - Involves 5 linebackers, 2 defensive linemen and 4 defensive backs - odd alignment with nose backer lined up over the offensive center on the line of scrimmage.

Hawk Defense - Involves same players as Eagle defense except nose backer stems to a linebacker position and is a weak pass defender or blitzer.

L - Left outside linebacker - strong or weak backer - a primary pass rusher except with change calls or blitz and peel assignments in blitzes.

R - Right outside linebacker - strong or weak backer - same responsibilities as "L".

Mac - Strongside inside linebacker whose adjustments may involve him lining up from normal position over the strong tackle, middle of the formation or over the weak back in the "W" position.

Nose - Nose linebacker lines up on the line of scrimmage over the center and will rush "A" gap strong or weak, run a game or drop in pass coverage.

Tackles - Aggressive pass rushers and run reactors.

Strong Safety - In eight man front - defense lines up over weak tackles and has specific run gap responsibilities along with pass coverage. In 7 man front adjustments plays as a linebacker or defensive back but does not have specific gap responsibility. Maybe a sky force man in some one back adjustments.

Free Safety - Deep pass defender and pass run option support man.

Weak Corner - Deep defender and secondary run support man.

Strong Corner - Deep defender and secondary run support man.

← Rose - Call that indicates that a secondary man is the flat defender to our defensive right in a zone defense.

← Linda - Call that indicates that a secondary man is the flat defender to our defensive left in a zone defense.

Roger - Call to nose telling him to take "A" gap to our defensive right.

Larry - Call to nose telling him to take "A" gap to our defensive left.

Randy - Tells the right tackle to charge into the "A" gap his side on the snap of the ball.

Lou - Tells the left tackle to charge into the "A" gap his side on the snap of the ball.

Rex - Call to nose and right tackle telling them to run a game with the tackle going first and taking the "A" gap with the nose 2nd and taking the "B" gap.

Lex - Call nose and left tackle telling them to run a game with the tackle going first and taking "A" gap with the nose 2nd and taking the "B" gap.

"A" Call - Tells the tackle to charge into the "B" gap his side because a backer or safety is blitzing the "A" gap.

"B" Call - Tells the tackle to charge into the "A" gap his side because a backer or safety is blitzing the "B" Gap.

Rip - Tells the nose to charge into the "A" gap to his right, the left tackle the "A" gap his side and the right tackle to charge hard thru the inside half of the offensive left tackle.

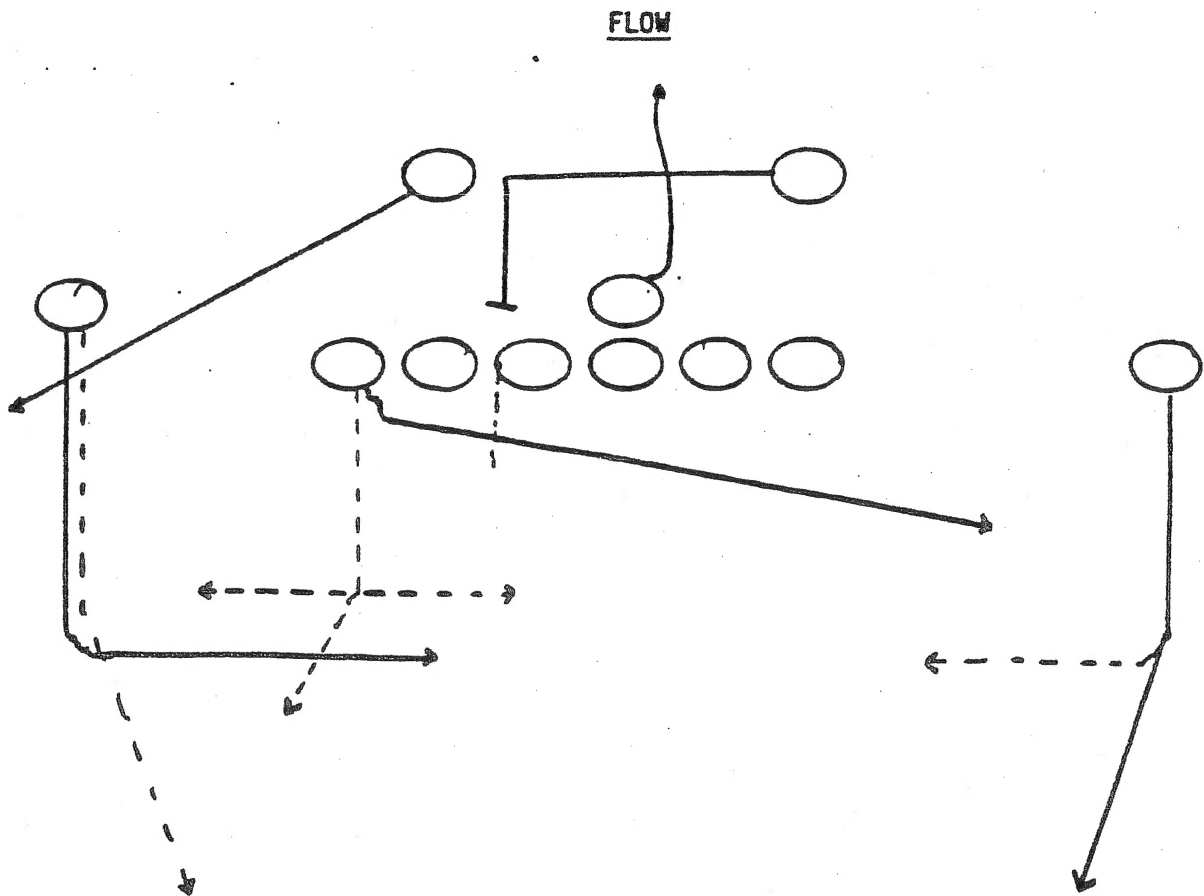

Liz - Tells the nose to charge into the "A" gap his side and the left tackle to charge hard thru the inside half of the offensive right tackle.

Change Call - Change of responsibilities between coverage men and rushers in Eagle, Hawk and Ram defenses.

Off Call - Call made to R and L by safeties telling them to drop in coverage.

On Call - Call made to R and L by safeties telling them to rush. Only used when motion changes an off call to an on call.

Yum Call - Call backer makes to nose telling him change of strength motion by the tight end is occurring - changing the hook drop of the nose in zone.

Flow is defined as both Backs going toward the strong side of the formation. These passes will be defended by pattern recognition and application of the following flow rules:

ZONE DEFENSES:

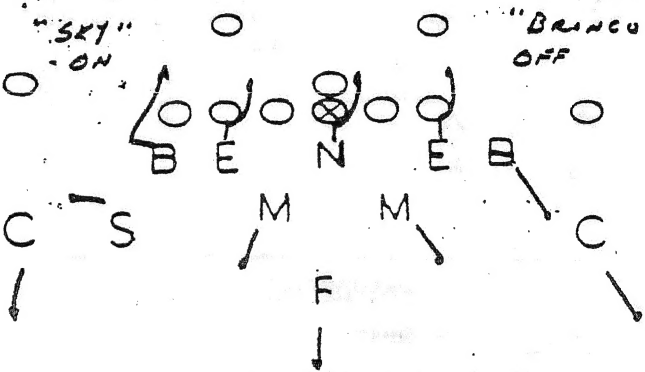

1. Strong Flat Defender - Hold on Z - React to F in flat.
2. Strong Hook Defender - Clear Tight End upfield - release to Z inside Quick to possible check. (Boot clear seam).
3. Weak Hook Defender - Work weak to strong crosser. (Boot carry crosser).
4. Weak Flat Defender - Look for crosser shallow to deep. Possible check. (Boot crosser to stretch with QB).
5. Deep 3rd on 1/2 Defenders - Play coverage called.

Diagram illustrating a 3x3 grid with letters and symbols. The grid contains:

- Row 1: O, O, O
- Row 2: L, B, T, N, T, R
- Row 3: C, M, SS, C

Arrows indicate connections between adjacent cells (L to B, B to T, T to N, N to T, T to R, and C to M, M to SS, SS to C). A circled 'R' is present to the right of the grid. The word "BRONCO" is written below the grid.
